A Message From The Principal

Seasons Greetings,
I hope everyone enjoyed the big bird last week.
It is that special time of year again and I certainly wish you all the best during this holiday season.

Our wrestling team is off to the regional tournament in Dillingham. Our wrestlers are progressing well and I predict good success. Thank you Mr. Lee and Go Wrestlers!

Lots of exciting events and activities are coming up in the next two weeks; S.A.T. testing, Geography Bee, Challenge for Life basketball camp,
holiday concert, and making ginger bread houses.
Watch the friday flyer to stay abreast of times
and dates.

Have a great weekend.

Come and Buy Some Festive Treats !!!

Thanksgiving 1621 and Now

by Parker

Thanksgiving of 1621 and today are the same and are different in some ways. We both have turkey. We both have guests. We both have food on the table. We both have Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving in 1621 and thanksgiving today are different in some ways. The Pilgrims of 1621 didn't have mashed potatoes. They didn't have small napkins. They had teepees for the Wampanoag. They didn't have pumpkin pie. I learned that they had a celebration like ours but they had some different foods.

Thanksgiving Then and Now

By Alexia

The Thanksgiving in 1621 and 2011 are different in many ways. In 1621, the food came from the land and sea. Today we buy our food at the store. The 1621 people wear different cloths than us. The 1621 women wore dresses and the men wore suits. Today we wear whatever we want. In 1621 the Pilgrims ate with the Indians. In 2011 we eat with anyone.

Thanksgiving Then and Now

By Faith

Thanksgiving of 1621 and today are the same and different in many ways. We both have friends and family. We both have a big feast. We both have turkey. We both have corn.

Thanksgiving now and thanksgiving in 1621 are different in many ways. The Pilgrims had lobster for Thanksgiving dinner in 1621. The Pilgrims now have houses then Wampanoag people had teepees for their guests. They had wild turkey we have tamed turkeys. They celebrated Thanksgiving for three days. I learned that the Pilgrims put dead fish in the soil to help it grow better.

Book Fair Report

by Sara Lee

I would like to say THANK-YOU to the Sand Point School staff and the wonderful parents, grandparents, and children in our community for supporting our recent book fair. We received $36.00 in extra donations for our library fund from the One for Books collection box, as well as earning $1400.00 in Scholastic Dollars to spend towards Scholastic books to be added to the library for our students.

A special thanks to Griffen and Bruce Lee, and Glen, Raynelle, and Brittany Gardner for helping with the set-up on the school stage and the taking down, packing, loading, transporting, unpacking and re-building of the display for the community bazaar!

I will be organizing a Buy One, Get One Free book fair coming to our school in May! Let's raise some readers!
