A Message From The Principal

Hello everyone,
We recently concluded our Sand Point School Geography Bee. Jillian Bjornstad retained her championship title from last year by placing 1st in the competition. Colton Mack placed second, with Logan Thompson and Evan Wilson tying for third place. Jillian goes on to compete at the District level, and even the state and national levels if she does well enough. We had 42 contestants compete, and I was proud of the knowledge base exhibited by our students. A big Thank You to Mrs. Cumberlidge for organizing the event, and to Marta and Mrs Gundersen for Judging. Also, Fantastic job to Jillian for winning two years in a row!

Many of our 9th-12th grade students are competing in a District sponsored Student Essay Contest. The essays are due to the district office on the 15th of December.

Another great event the students are presently involved with is the Idida Podcast Contest.

Please check the back of the Friday Flyer for more information regarding the contests.
