6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question:

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2015. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2015 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

Jump to question:

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

One of our largest goals to reach our community and its needs is to continue engaging the younger generation. Our goal for this year is to acquire an FM license that will allow us to target programming that is modern and appeals to contemporary listeners. We are working to make this license centered out of the local high school to help engage an educational aspect as well. We have also continued working with the English department in the high school to create newscasts that have been picked up for Statewide use. We also host local events including a large portion of our 4th of July celebration. This event is a great, family oriented time where the community can really come together to celebrate and enjoy the warm summer days. We are also increasing our presence in social media and other digital outlets that allow us to get out PSA's, community events/announcements and regional news to as many people, in the place they enjoy to be. We have seen a huge growth in Facebook engagement, with some posts reaching as many as twice our serviced population. We have also begun working on creating an enhanced PSA format that involves social media along with our web and radio platforms.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question:

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

We have collaborated with other regional public broadcasting entities to provide access to local and regional news. Being one of the smallest public broadcasting stations in our state we have a hard time developing local news as we have such limited fiscal and human resources. This has really helped get important news stories out to our communities. We are also trying to formalize a relationship with our clinic in order to put out medical PSA's that are targeting specific needs in the community. We partner with our school to promote student activities and PSA's, along with broadcasting School District, Borough Assembly and Local Municipality meetings.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question:

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

Our partnership with local community organizations is very broad. Most every single non-profit or municipal organization uses our resources or uses us as a resource to disseminate information to our communities. This is everything from City and Borough announcements, closures, upcoming events or public health concerns and availabilities. One of the easiest ways of measuring this is to see how our partners continuously come back to work with us. They see that their information is readily available and used by their audiences and the radio continues to play a valuable role in our community.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question:

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2015, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2016. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

We have specific programming based on Native interests that we air on a daily basis. We do have a large group immigrant population on our island that is centered on our processing plant. They often work upwards of 12 to 14 hours a day and do not have much time for community engagement on any level. We would love to have a Philipino based program made available for this potential listening block but that has not occurred to date. For Native listeners we are still seeking partnership with a tribe that will help find Elders within their communities who are interested in recording Oral Histories. There are several Native villages that have consolidated into regional hubs, and the stories from villages are in danger of disappearing, and we believe it would be crucial to find a way to preserve these assets.

6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question:

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

Without our CPB grant our station would be unable to operate in any capacity resembling its current capacity. We are not a region that has commercial viability so the CSG provides real and tangible improvements to the quality of our peoples lives and essential services that otherwise would not exist.

Jump to question:

This section builds on the Census of Journalists conducted by CPB in the summer of 2010. These positions are the primary professional full-time, part-time or contract contributors to local journalism at your organization. The individuals in these positions will have had training in the standards and practices of fact-based news origination, verification, production and presentation. These are generally accepted titles for these positions but may not match position descriptions at your organization exactly. Please do your best to account for each professional journalist in your organization. Please do not count student or volunteer journalists.
