Principal's Message:

In today's Principal's Message I want to talk a little about student recognition. I would like to congratulate the students who participated in the 2018 Battle of the Books. We had 3rd – 6th graders participate in the District Battle. This competition is a fun way to promote outside reading with students. I awarded these students a Principal Pencil. The Principal Pencil is a little token of praise for sharing learning with me. I give them out to any student who visits me in my office to share learning, a project, or any accomplishment at school. My priority #1 is student learning and I look for any and every opportunity to share in this process with the students of Sand Point School. From Kindergarten through Seniors, the Principal Pencil is regarded as the representation of recognition for a job well done. So parents if you see a crazy Dr. Seuss or Smart Cookie pencil make its way home, ask your child about what they shared with the principal that day.

Dr. Seifert

Thank You!

The Robb family would like to thank everyone for the cards, prayers, and helpful acts of the Sand Point community during our time of loss.

We are blessed to live in a wonderful town filled with kind-hearted people.

The senior class will be hosting a lock-in on March 2nd.

CAUGHT BEING GOOD CORNER!

Our winners of the raffle to reward "Caught Being Good" students were Gracyn, Melrose, Rilynn, and Lila! We are proud of our Eagles!

Congratulations!

Kids selling bracelets for a great cause!

Students in Sand Point elementary are in a bracelet making frenzy! This new trend started sometime before the December break, and has continued to gain momentum. One group of students are making their bracelets for a great cause, to earn money to benefit the Providence NICU in Anchorage. Money will be delivered to the NICU in March, when one of the students plans to be in Anchorage for doctor visits at Providence. If you have contributed to this worthy cause, thank you! "I know that I am alive because of all the nurses and doctors that helped me", said Keira Galovin.

Some of them are pictured below:

Summer Walls, Keeley Dushkin, Morgan Gundersen, Azia Walls, Vivian Browning, Ava Holmberg, Keira Galovin and Matthew Hadraki.

SENIORS, FAFSA DEADLINE IS COMING ON MARCH 2ND

The FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) is available online by starting your account at FAFSA.gov and the applications are due on or before March 2nd. Parents do not need their taxes completed before filing, just an estimate of your yearly income is all you need to file.

THE SOONER, THE BETTER....

To qualify for grants, low interest loans and on campus jobs, you must submit a FAFSA to the school(s) you are thinking about attending. Don't be at the end of the line, get your FAFSA in as soon as possible! You can't get help with financing your college without submitting a FAFSA. This is required everywhere.

THERE IS HELP OUT THERE....

There are many websites available to guide you through this process. I am also available anytime to help you complete the process. BE SURE TO SAVE YOUR WORK AS YOU GO ALONG! This will make the process easier in the long run.

Please contact me if you have any questions or need help.

Mrs. Nyberg

The 3rd Grade Battle of the Books participants earned a Principal Pencil in recognition of their efforts in this year's BOB.

The district battle took place on February 12th. The 3rd grade team of Derek, Iris, Avi, and Jordan took 2nd place in the District Battle. Great job! The best part is that they all had fun reading and competing. They each shared their favorite part of the BOB this year and overwhelmingly it was reading all of the books. I think that says it all. Mission accomplished. Kids loving to read.

The 5th-6th Grade Battle of the Books team of Rowdy, Arianna, Keira, and Summer competed in the District competition as well.

They too earned Principal Pencils for their hard work in reading and competing in the BOB 2018. I am always so proud of our students who take on these challenges in the academic arena of competition. Congratulations to all students who participated this year.
